West Side Minyan Learning Shabbat:

"What Counts"

Join the West Side Minyan for a participatory learning poetry slam. Since we're beginning the book of Numbers and approaching the end of counting the Omer, bring a poem or other reading (6 minutes or less including discussion; doesn't have to be original) to share on the theme of numbers, counting or related topics. The first 10 proposals submitted to Mosh (diligen@cs.com) will be discussed. We will participate in an abbreviated but halakhically complete davenning and spend about an hour in study.
